

PROMOTION PROGRAM – INDUSTRY INITIATIVES STREAM

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION GUIDE

1. Why are you only accepting applications for activities that received funding through the Promotion Program for their previous edition?

Due to the exceptional circumstances resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic, Telefilm's funding during this period will focus on supporting activities which have been supported in the past by Telefilm.

Telefilm wishes to continue to support activities that received funding under the Promotion Program in accordance with a funding agreement with Telefilm signed between April 1, 2019 and March 31, 2022.

2. Can I apply to this stream even if my activity has never been held before?

No.

3. Can I apply to this stream if my activity has only been supported once by Telefilm?

To be eligible, an activity must have had at least two (2) editions financed by Telefilm. However, Telefilm may, at its discretion, provide funding for activities that have only received financing for one (1) edition in Telefilm's 2021-2022 or 2020-2021 fiscal year. Activities that have only received financing for one (1) edition may be considered if the reporting on the previous edition that was financed by Telefilm have been received and have been deemed acceptable by Telefilm, or if sufficient details have been received by Telefilm to consider financing for the 2022-2023 edition. Applicants must reach out to their Project Leader to discuss prior to the submission of their application.

4. What is a "Canadian work"?

A Canadian work is an audiovisual work that is either 1) certified by the Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office (CAVCO) as a "Canadian film or video production"; 2) recognized as an audiovisual treaty coproduction by the Minister of Canadian Heritage; or 3) directed and produced by Canadians, with its copyright owned by Canadians. Canadian works can be feature films, medium-length films, short films, television programs and digital productions.

5. How does Telefilm establish whether an alternative distribution network's previous edition presented at least 30% of Canadian works or a national award ceremony's previous edition presented at least 75% of recent Canadian works?

For an alternative distribution network to be eligible for the Industry Initiatives Stream, a minimum of 30% of all works presented in the previous edition must be Canadian works. In order to determine if this requirement is met, Telefilm will take into account all Canadian works, whether they are recent or not.

Further, for alternative distribution networks that showcased more than 200 works, Telefilm will consider a minimum threshold of 60 works to be sufficient.

For a national award ceremony to be eligible for the Industry Initiatives Stream, a minimum of 75% of all works presented in the previous edition must be recent Canadian works. Telefilm only considers recent works, that is, generally speaking, films that have been completed and distributed in the last two calendar years.

If the previous year's edition was affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, Telefilm will consider the last two (2) editions.

To determine the percentage of Canadian works, Telefilm will add up the number of Canadian feature films (i.e. 75 minutes or more) and the equivalent number of medium-length and short films using the following ratios:

- 2 medium-length films are equivalent to 1 feature film;
- 4 short films are equivalent to 1 feature film.

Example:

The programming of the last edition of an alternative distribution network consisted of:

- 20 feature films of which 10 were Canadian;
- 30 medium-length films of which 20 were Canadian; and
- 58 short films of which 40 were Canadian.

The percentage of Canadian works would be calculated as follows:

Step 1: Convert the number of medium and short films into feature films using the ratios

- Medium-length films: the programming included 30 medium-length films of which 20 were Canadian. Using the 2:1 ratio, this means:
 - ✓ 30 medium-length films are equivalent to 15 feature films;
 - ✓ 20 Canadian medium-length films are equivalent to 10 Canadian feature films.
- Short Films: the programming included 58 short films of which 40 were Canadian. Using the 4:1 ratio, this means:
 - ✓ 58 short films are equivalent to 15 feature films (rounded up);
 - ✓ 40 Canadian short films are equivalent to 10 Canadian feature films.

Step 2: Calculate the total of all works (feature films and feature film equivalents)

- ✓ Number of feature films: 20
- ✓ Number of feature film equivalents (medium-length films converted): 15

- ✓ Number of feature film equivalents (short films converted): 15

Total number of all works: 50

Step 3: Calculate the total of all Canadian works (feature films and feature film equivalents)

- ✓ Number of Canadian feature films: 10
- ✓ Number of Canadian feature film equivalents (medium-length films converted): 10
- ✓ Number of Canadian feature film equivalents (short films converted): 10

Total number of Canadian works: 30

Step 4: Calculate the percentage of Canadian works in the programming

The programming of the previous edition consisted of 50 works of which 30 were Canadian. Thus, the percentage of Canadian works in the previous edition's programming is calculated as follows:

$(\text{Number of Canadian works} / \text{total number of all works}) \times 100\% = 60\%$

Total percentage of Canadian works: 60%

6. How does Telefilm define the aim of an Activity in regard to diverse representation?

The diversity of the Activity should be applicable to all participants, programming, content and/or events associated with the Activity and not only to specific strands or sections of the programming. For example, if the Activity only supports training of Indigenous individuals, then the Activity's aim would be considered as focused on Indigenous creators.

To consult the definitions used by Telefilm, please visit Telefilm's website.

7. How should the attendance online (virtual and broadcast) be calculated?

The attendance numbers should be based on confirmed attendance that have watched at least half the film (if this data is available) and not only on tickets redeemed. Each ticket purchased/claimed should account for one individual only and not by household or multiple individuals, unless this information has been specifically gathered by the Applicant. If there was a broadcast element to the screenings, please ensure that the number estimated is verifiable, reasonable, calculated based on third party information and in-line with the previous edition's attendance, as this figure may be audited by Telefilm should the activity be funded.

8. How will Telefilm's funding be determined?

Telefilm's funding will be based on, among other things, the budget of the activity, the private funding obtained, the scope of the activity, and Telefilm's funding for the previous edition of the activity. Telefilm will inform all eligible applicants prior to the Stream's opening of the amount of funding they are eligible to receive, subject to their compliance with the Stream criteria.

Please note that Telefilm's funding is contingent on the applicant's continued compliance with the eligibility and assessment criteria set out in the Stream's guidelines as well as on the availability of funding for the Stream.

9. Can I apply for an amount that differs from Telefilm’s pre-approved amount?

The amount inputted in the application should reflect the total amount for all activities that was provided by Telefilm in the pre-approval notification. No changes to this amount should be made in the application unless previously discussed with, and agreed upon by, Telefilm.

10. If a complementary activity previously received Telefilm funding as a stand-alone application, does it have to be included in the application for the main activity (such as a festival, for example) that it is associated with?

Please note that for Telefilm's 2022-2023 fiscal year, applicants having complementary activities that previously received Telefilm funding are encouraged to contact their Project Leader to determine if this activity should be stand-alone or included with the main activity.

Complementary activities are defined as promotional activities or business development or professional development activities (forums, workshops, conferences, networking events, professional meetings, etc.) generally taking place during a main activity on a regular basis, even if these complementary activities are branded differently from the main activity or slightly changed from one edition to the other.

If a single application is recommended for all activities, a separate budget by activity must be provided at application, and details on the complementary activities must be provided using the “activity proposal” template available on Telefilm’s website. A separate activity report, final cost report and visibility grid will also be required for each activity at final reporting.

11. What happens if plans for my activity changes due to unforeseen circumstances relating to COVID-19 after I sign my funding agreement with Telefilm?

Telefilm recognizes that planned activities applying for funding under this Stream may change after the application has been submitted or after the financing agreement with Telefilm has been signed due to exceptional circumstances resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Applicants must immediately provide a written notice of such COVID-19 related changes to Telefilm and Telefilm will work with applicants on a case-by-case basis to review such situations.

Please note that any funding provided by Telefilm can only be used for the eligible costs of approved activities and must not be used for the organization’s emergency or other working capital-related expenses.

12. What does Telefilm consider as material change to an activity for the purposes of the application form?

A material change is a change that could have, in Telefilm’s opinion, an impact on the applicant’s ability to conduct the activity as initially planned. Material changes could include, among other things:

- a. Change in key personnel if the new key personnel has less or non-equivalent experience;
- b. Change in the date of an activity that is now set in a similar period as another similar sized activity in the same region;
- c. Change in the targeted market;
- d. Change in delivery format (for example, in-person delivery changed to online delivery or change in location);
- e. Loss of partnership, etc.

13. How are in-kind sponsorships handled?

Telefilm recognizes in-kind (non-pecuniary) sponsorships at thirty-three percent (33%) of their reported value. Accounting for in-kind sponsorships is open to interpretation. To speed up the decision-making process and to limit due diligence, Telefilm prefers to rely only on information that is easily verifiable from an accounting standpoint.

14. What percentage of administration costs can be included in the budget of the activity?

Administration costs generally cannot exceed 25% of the activity's direct costs (direct costs are the total budget minus administration costs).

15. Who do you consider as "key personnel" for an activity?

Key personnel would include the Executive Director, Activity Manager/Coordinator, or any other roles that impact the presentation of the Activity.

16. When should applications be submitted?

Applications should be submitted during one of the opening periods of this Stream. Please check the Stream's webpage to verify the applicable period that matches the dates of your activity to ensure that the application is submitted for the correct period.

We will prioritize activities based on the date the activity is taking place. We recommend applicants do not apply until they can represent what will be delivered, including their ability to complete the projected expenses and income for the activity in the required Telefilm budget template. However, applicants should apply for funding no later than six to eight weeks in advance of the activity in order to ensure adequate time for evaluation and contracting. Telefilm cannot approve applications where there is significant uncertainty of the activity taking place.

Applications submitted outside of the applicable opening dates may be deemed ineligible. If you missed the opening period applicable to your activity dates, please contact your region's Project Leader.
