WELCOME TO TELEFILM CANADA'S DATA COLLECTION AND PERSONAL INFORMATION USER GUIDE

Telefilm Canada is committed to demonstrable action in creating greater access for Canadian creators of underrepresented identities to Canada's audiovisual industry. Collecting data allows us to gain greater insight into all the members of our community and their projects. It also plays a key role in creating a more equitable industry. Telefilm Canada needs this data from all our creators of all backgrounds and lived experiences for business intelligence and to meet our equity, diversity and inclusion commitments. Even if you do not self-identify as a member of an underrepresented community, your data is still important.

All directors, writers, producers, co-producers, and executive producers (excluding those receiving courtesy credits) attached to a project submitted for evaluation will receive Telefilm's self-identification questionnaire.

To assist you with completing this important document, we have created this guide which includes instructions on how to register and complete the self-identification questionnaire as well as how to select permissions for how Telefilm Canada can use your data. We appreciate your efforts to provide us with this vital information and thank you for your support.

The self-identification questionnaire applies only to the Production, Theatrical Documentary, Talent to Watch and Development programs.

If you have any questions, please contact questionnaire@telefilm.ca.

Data Collection and Key Personnel

Why participate?

- Telefilm's data collection allows us to better understand our applicants and their projects, while also leading to better informed decision-making.
- Data collected also is used for validating eligibility for streams in:
 - Indigenous Stream (Development, Talent to Watch, Theatrical Documentary, Production).
 - Stream for Black and People of Colour (Development).
 - Filmmaker Apply-Direct Stream (Talent to Watch).

Who should participate?

- All individuals* in any producer, screenwriter or director role are asked to complete a self-identification questionnaire.
- Participants then choose how that information is shared.

Key Personnel

Instructions:

- Please list all individuals* in a screenwriter, producer or director role who are not already listed in the Key Personnel section.
- If there is more than one individual per role, use the "Add" button to enter additional members.
- Note: It is important that you use a direct contact email address (i.e., not a generic or third-party address such as info@ or an agent's email).

*Do not include personnel receiving a courtesy credit only.

6. In order for your information to be used in the processing of an application, you must complete the Consent to Use task.

→ You must confirm how your information may be used by Telefilm.

- You may consent to your data being used in the processing of the application for the project/application you are associated with.
 - In this case, the information may be used in the validation of the eligibility of the application for particular streams (e.g., Indigenous Stream, Stream for Black and People of Colour, etc.) and in the evaluation and decision-making of that application.
- You may consent for it to only be used in an aggregate/anonymous manner.
 - In this case, it will not be used in the processing of the application you are attached to but may be used in Telefilm's reporting in an aggregate way but you will not be specifically identifiable (e.g., x% of all directors attached to projects submitted under the Production Program this fiscal year were women).
- Please consult the Data Collection FAQ for more information.

NOTE: You can change your choice for future applications you may be attached to. In other words, you will receive a notice for each application an applicant company attaches you to and you can save your Consent to Use choice or change it for that new application. Changes will not revert backward to previous applications.
